An applicant submitting a Location Variance request must clearly demonstrate an “undue hardship” and “prove that special and unusual conditions pertaining to the specific piece of property are warranted.” No such variance shall be authorized by the Planning Commission unless the Commission finds that all of the following facts and conditions exist:

1. Will the proposed use alter the essential character of the area?

2. Is the problem a self-created hardship? Please explain the circumstances under which the hardship was produced.

3. Will the use be compatible with adjacent uses of land?

4. Is the plight due to unique circumstances peculiar to the property and not to general neighborhood conditions?

5. Will the issuance of the variance still ensure that the spirit of the ordinance is intact?
